

Thinks Letters Soliciting May Aid Him

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An aide to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Tuesday that many letters sent out of state soliciting money for Fulbright's opponent have resulted in contributions to Fulbright.

Hoyt Purvis, Fulbright's press secretary, displayed a stack of Republican Charles Bernard's solicitation letters that had been sent to Fulbright by persons who had received them.

Purvis estimated that the total contribution to Fulbright's campaign from Bernard's solicitations was "several hundred dollars."

Premier of Portugal in a Coma

By DAVID MAZZARELLA
Associated Press Writer
LISBON (AP) — Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar rallied slightly during the night, though still in a coma and partially paralyzed, and an American specialist flew today to join the fight for his life.

A communique shortly before midnight Tuesday said the condition of the 79-year-old dictator's heart and nervous system was improving. He suffered a stroke Monday as he was recuperating from head surgery on Sept. 7.

Dr. Bissala Barreto, a long-time friend of Salazar, said on leaving Red Cross Hospital today: "We can think of recuperation again."

But the premier was understood to be still in grave danger. Dr. Houston Merritt of New York was summoned after U.S. Ambassador William Tapley Bennett offered aid. Merritt is from the neurological institute of the Columbia University.

No Matter Which Party Is in Power Tax Code Due for Revision

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — No matter who is president or which party controls the House, the complicated and much-amended tax code is due for a searching study and possible revision next year.

Both Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, and Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., who is in line to be chairman if the Republicans take over the House, say they favor a full-scale review of the Internal Revenue Code.

In separate interviews, both said they would put the review high on the committee's order of business and were prepared to schedule weeks, possibly months, of hearings.

Although some minor modifications were made in the code in connection with the 1966 tax reductions, there has been no extensive review of the tax laws since 1955.

Over the years a host of special provisions have been attached to the code, many of which are said by critics to be loopholes for the well-to-do and the well-advised.

Demands were made in Congress earlier this year in connection with passage of the 10 per cent income surtax for revisions to allow for additional revenue without a general tax increase.

But the Treasury pleaded against what promised to be controversial and drawn-out study of the code at the time before the medical center.

President Americo Thomaz met for two hours Tuesday with the Council of State, made up of 15 prominent officials and citizens whose advice he must seek before naming a new premier. No statement was released afterward.

cause of what it said was the urgent need for immediate passage of the surtax.

The Treasury did promise to recommend to Congress possible changes in the law. Congressional leaders don't expect the recommendations until after the November elections.

There has been no official disclosure of what the Treasury may recommend, but it is not expected to call for abolition or drastic reduction of the controversial 3 1/2 per cent oil depletion allowance.

Other likely subjects for review include:

— Revisions in the capital gains tax, including possible changes in when it would be imposed and on the length of time assets can be held before straight income tax is applied in place of the capital gains tax.

— Limitations on income splitting within a family. Revision of estate and gift taxes so as to make it less attractive to give away property during lifetime in order to lower the estate tax ultimate heirs will pay.

— Tightening the regulations on tax-exempt foundations, which have already been the subject of extensive congressional studies.

— Limiting the present opportunity of reducing the taxes on a business by organizing it into several corporations.

— Possibly a proposal for a minimum income tax on higher incomes so that no one could escape taxation entirely as for example, by investing exclusively in tax-exempt municipal bonds. Such a proposal was incorporated in the Democratic party platform.

— In general, changes designed to lighten the tax burden at the lowest end of the income scale. A precedent of sorts may have been set this year when the lowest brackets were exempted from the surtax.

Humphrey Escalates Attacks

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey, in a major escalation of his attacks on Richard M. Nixon, says the Republican presidential candidate "is farther to the hawk side" on the Vietnam war than anyone in the current administration.

The vice president put the hawk label on Nixon Tuesday during a stopover in Rochester, N.Y., before returning to Washington from a one-day trip to the Empire State.

In an interview show taped in Buffalo for television, Humphrey was scornful of the third party race mounted by former Democratic Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

"I can only say one thing for Mr. Wallace's candidacy, I think it's bad news for the United States," he said.

In a speech to party workers in Buffalo, Humphrey strongly criticized Nixon for saying he favors Senate ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, but would like a vote delayed because action now might imply approval of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

"Mr. Nixon," he said, "I ask you to be a statesman and stop playing with the lives of humanity."

Then, after quoting the Republican candidate as saying he would double criminal convictions while Humphrey would double the antipoverty program, the vice president asserted:

"Let Mr. Nixon build his penitentiaries. I want to build neighborhoods and homes for Americans."

All in all, Humphrey used his strongest language yet in public appearances to deride his opponent.

For Humphrey, the two-city visit to New York state apparently provided a big psychological boost. His crowds were bigger and generally more enthusiastic than during the earlier days of his campaign.

Of course, Humphrey ran into anti-Vietnam war demonstrators.

He silenced one group at Canisius College in Buffalo by urging them to voice their dissent "in a way that commands respect, because then and only then can you really influence public opinion, then and only then can you even change things."

Before the same college audience, Humphrey made another effort to depict himself as a moderate on the Vietnam war.

Declaring that "I've never been very much interested in wars," Humphrey promised that if elected, he would do anything necessary to achieve an honorable peace. And he reminded his audience that he could exercise no control in this area before Jan. 20, adding:

"We only have one president at a time—and that's enough." That he spoke in jest about the President seemed evident when he later told a Democratic luncheon that the record of the Johnson administration "has been nothing short of remarkable."

Farmers Are Reminded of ASC Election

Farmers today got a last-minute reminder about important upcoming elections of ASC farmer-committeemen who will serve for the next year as local administrators of national farm action programs.

According to R. B. Arnold, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, eligible voters of Hempstead County will cast ballots for community committeemen by mail September 9 through 19.

Qualified voters in the election are all farmers who are eligible to take part in one or more of the farm programs which the committee administer. Lists of eligible voters in each community are available in the ASCS county office.

Letter From Pueblo Officer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Rose Bucher has received the first letter from her husband since the U.S. intelligence-gathering ship Pueblo which he commanded was seized by North Korea.

The letter from Lt. Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher was dated Aug. 28—240 days after the seizure—Mrs. Bucher said Tuesday.

A family friend said it contained no mention of possible release for the Pueblo crew.

no railroading or ramrodding of things like that."

The public hearings today were scheduled for 2 p.m. for three committees—rules, platform and resolutions. The committees were to have begun their meetings at 9 a.m.

The convention will start at 10 a.m. Thursday and end about 12:30 p.m. Friday. The two-day event will feature a $10-a-plate fund raising dinner Thursday night with Sen. Clyde S. Byrd of West Virginia delivering the featured address.

Rep. Charles Matthews of North Little Rock will serve as temporary chairman and deliver the keynote address. Other major speeches during the convention will come from Sen. J.W. Fulbright, Reps. Wilbur D. Mills and David Pryor and congressional candidates Bill Alexander and Hardy Croxton. Mills will serve as permanent chairman.

Changes in party rules will generate some of the fire. Almost a cinch to go are some rules which permit segregation within the party.

A fight will also occur if an attempt is made to require state candidates to pledge loyalty to the national nominees. The proposal was presented last spring in a meeting of the state Democratic Committee but action on it was deferred until the convention.

Mrs. Virginia Johnson, who was asked by Crank to serve on the rules committee, said she could not serve but asked the committee chairman, Benoit Taylor of Little Rock, to see that the party loyalty pledge did not extend to the national level.

The party will also select a new state chairman to succeed Leon B. Catlett, the Little Rock attorney who resigned from the position Monday.

There is speculation that Matthews will be named as chairman, although one Democratic office-holder who asked

Gross Product Not Hurt by Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department predicted today the Gross National Product "will show a substantial increase" for the third quarter. This was the first official acknowledgement that the GNP is not being curbed by the tax surcharge.

At the same time, the department's office of business economics said the second quarter increase was even greater than previously reported. Revised data indicate the quarterly advance was more than $1 billion higher than previously reported, raising the increase to $21.5 billion.

The higher second quarter figure raised the annual rate of the GNP on the basis of first half performance to $52.9 billion.

The report did not attempt to forecast the exact amount of the third quarter increase, except to say that it should "not match the very large quarterly gains registered in the first half of 1968."

The first quarter increase in the GNP was $20.1 billion. Concerned because the rises are largely the reflection of growing inflation rather than "real" growth of the economy, the administration had reportedly been hoping to tame the GNP sufficiently to hold the third quarter increase to about $10 billion.

But informed sources have been saying privately in recent days that this was too much to hope for and that the rise would probably be on the high side of $15 billion.

The analysis of the office of business economics said the that his name not be used, said some of "the progressives" are supporting Jack Davis of Pine Bluff for the position.

JUDGE W. J. ARNOLD, III

Introduced by Dr. F. C. Crow, local attorney, Circuit Judge William H. Arnold, III, of the 8th Judicial District, told members of the Kiwanis Club about Supreme Court decisions.

Judge Arnold discussed recent court decisions with respect to the rights of citizens and the rights of criminals.

third quarter gain might have matched those of the first half except for a major reduction in inventory investment.

The sizable upward revision of the increase for the second quarter was caused by refinements of data in two major sectors, net exports and business inventory changes, the office said.

Thinks Court Out of Step

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Tuesday that Congress must act when the Supreme Court "is obviously out of step with the times."

It is "the legislative process," not the judicial, which permits screening of views and taking of testimony and assessing of problems," Hammerschmidt said in his weekly newsletter.

Council of Garden Clubs Holds Luncheon

The Gardenia Garden Club was hostess for the Hope Council of Garden Clubs Luncheon held at the Diamond Cafe, Thursday, September 12th.

Mrs. Ned Ray Purdie introduced Miss Donna Connelly who sang the devotionals, "The Lord's Prayer" and "In the Garden" accompanied by Miss Ellen Turner. Mrs. Lonnie C. Crow presided and introduced Mrs. Chas. F. Batson, County Chairman Conservation Education, who explained how conservation education was to be worked into the curriculum of our schools. Mrs. Batson, who is also World Geography teacher in Hope Junior High School, mentioned that the students in her classes who understood what conservation is and what it means to the people of Arkansas came from Garland School. She then found that one of the reasons for this was because of the active Junior Garden Club in that school which is sponsored by the Gardenia Garden Club. Mrs. Batson then explained the essay contest open to Fifth through Twelfth grades with a winner in each grade. The State top prize being the equivalent of $800.00 scholarship. The topic to be "Why We Need Natural Resources Conservation".

The guest speaker, Mrs. Jim Yancey, of Prescott was introduced. Mrs. Yancey is Council Chairman of the project of landscaping the hospital grounds in Prescott. The Prescott Garden Club Council won a Sears Award of $150.00 for this project. Mrs. Yancey also explained their other beautification projects in Prescott and how they raised the money to finance the different projects. Mrs. Bob Yarbrough, Prescott, was also a guest.

It was announced a new Junior Garden Club was being organized by Mrs. Bennett Wood, member of the Irls Garden Club, at the Beryl Henry School.

Mrs. Crow explained why more cooperation was needed from the club members in attending Council meetings in order to take care of issues and projects now before the Council, one of which is the speech contest sponsored by the Arkansas Federation of Garden Clubs. This contest is open to all students in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades. The topic "Water—The Life Blood of Civilization".

Perry Hurls No Hitter for Giants

By HERSCHEL NISENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
After what Gaylor Perry did to Bob Gibson Tuesday night, what can Denny McLain do for an encore?

The St. Louis Cardinals, in their first game since clinching their second straight National League pennant, were supposed to be warming up for McLain and the Detroit Tigers in the World Series opener.

Instead, Perry did some cooling off. The 3-year-old right-hander hurled the fourth no-hitter of the 1968 season—two in each league—stopping the Cards and shutout king Gibson 1-0 on Ron Hunt's first-inning homer.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 7-5, the New York Mets edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2, Houston tripped Atlanta 5-1 and Pittsburgh downed Philadelphia 4-2.

In the American League, Detroit clinched its first pennant in 23 years by nipping the New York Yankees 2-1, Boston whipped Baltimore 2-0, Washington topped Cleveland 4-2 and Oakland trounced the Chicago White Sox 8-1 in the second game of a two-night doubleheader after dropping the opener 2-1. The California-Minnesota game was rained out.

The 6-foot-4 Perry permitted only two baserunners and retired 18 batters in a row between walks to Mike Shannon in the second inning and Phil Gagliano in the eighth. He threw 101 pitches, getting 12 outs on grounders and striking out nine, including Curt Flood on a called third strike to end the game.

"Was it my best stuff?" Perry said in answer to a question. "You've got to say so when you pitch a no-hitter. The most important thing was my control. I was able to keep the ball down. I was hitting spots real well and my slider was really working."

"This was my biggest thrill. I started thinking about a no-hitter after the fifth inning. The last one I pitched was in high school in Williamston, N.C."

Perry said he bore down all the way, even though the Giants were eliminated from the pennant race Sunday.

"When your record is 14-14 you go out to win," he said.

Second baseman Hunt, the second batter in the first inning, hit Gibson's third pitch of the game over the left field fence. It was only his second home run of the season.

"It was an inside fast ball," said Gibson, 21-8.

Perry's closest call came in the sixth. Dal Maxvill led off with a smash-up the middle, but Perry, falling off the mound toward first base, managed to snag it and threw him out.

"If that ball was to the third base side of the mound I wouldn't have had it," he said. Other no-hitters this season were pitched by Cincinnati's George Culver against Philadelphia, Baltimore's Tom Phoebus against Boston and Oakland's Jim "Catfish" Hunter against Minnesota. The last was a perfect game.

Bill Sudakis and Paul Popovich drove in two runs apiece and pitcher Claude Osteen delivered three key singles as the Dodgers won for the 11th time in 14 games.

Rookie Jim McAndrew pitched a two-hitter as the Mets edged Chicago on Ron Swoboda's steal of home in the fourth inning. Ed Charles hit a solo homer in the first for the Mets.

Mike Cuellar checked Atlanta on six hits for Houston, Felipe Alou homered in the ninth for Atlanta's run.

Gene Altes homered and doubled and scored twice to lead Pittsburgh past Philadelphia as the Pirates won their fourth straight game and moved to within a half-game of fifth-place Atlanta.

College Favorites Selected

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — College football gourmets were treated to a tasty antipasto last week. Now it's time to pass the meat and potatoes.

If you're looking for gridiron goodies, there's a heaping platter on the fire for this weekend. May we suggest the Barbecued Cougar Ribs? The Grilled Gopher a l'Orange Juice? How about the specialty of the house . . . Gobbler under Crimson-tinted glass?

We're still trying to digest last week's appetizers . . . only 10 of 16 choices proved palatable . . . so we'll just take pot luck and hope for the best.

Saturday Afternoon
Notre Dame over Oklahoma: Sooner stars Bob Warmack and Eddie Hinton will give the rebuilt Irish defense occasional fits, but ND's Terry Hanratty-Jim Seymour aerial act should keep the visitors on the wrong side of South Bend in this initial confrontation of Top Ten powerhouses.

Southern California over Minnesota: Last year's national champs don't expect a picnic in the North Woods . . . the Gophers are big enough to swallow "Orange Juice" Simpson in one gulp. But they'll have to catch Magnolia, Fairview, and Crossett have all passed the 400-yd. plus total in net yards rushing in two games. On defense Magnolia has allowed 75 yards in two games and Fairview has allowed 79.

Wayne Miles of Magnolia has taken the early leads in individual scoring with 18 points. Five others have scored twice in the young season. Jimmy Harris of Fairview leads the extra point mknkers with five.

Texas A&M over Louisiana State: Edd Hargett, the Aggies' brilliant quarterback, is best in the tight spots. This figure to be one of them.

UCLA over Pittsburgh: Pitt shows promise after several bleak years. But promise will get the Panthers nowhere against the bruising Bruins.

BATTING—Don Wert, Tigers, lined a bases-loaded single with two out in the ninth inning that gave Detroit a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees and clinched the Tigers' first American League pennant in 23 years.

Real Test for Bobcats Friday

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sportswriter
To be sure, we could reprint the articles preceding the Prescott game last week with a few word changes, and they would be as effective, if not more so, coming before the DeQueen battle this Friday night.

Since the Curley Wolves last week were representing the renewal of a tough rivalry, it was not very hard to get mentally prepared for Prescott. But the real test comes against DeQueen, a series which has declined in importance since the days when Jack Ball was coaching the Leopards.

Like the Bobcats, DeQueen also has a new head coach this year in Wayne Freppon, who previously had some tough basketball teams at Smackover. The Leopards are undergoing a deep rebuilding program, but they have many experienced performers in the starting positions, at least.

Bobcat Head Coach Ronnie Higgins ran the entire team through a good workout yesterday, and will have one more practice in full pads today before a tapering-off session on Thursday. Surprisingly, Hope has the same record, 0-1-1, as DeQueen. However, there has been some difference in the scores and opponents.

The Leopards opened with an 18-16 tie against a weaker than usual Magnolia squad, and were ridden into the ground 37-6 by Broken Bow last Friday night. Ironically, while the Bobcats have gone so long without a winning season, the one team we have maintained a mastery over has been the Leopards.

Tomorrow will bring the scouting report on DeQueen, and each starter will be identified and his position analyzed. The scouting report will become the regular feature in Thursday's articles.

Once again the Eastern Division of 4-AA maintained a better composite record than did the West, which at this point is quite surprising. In an inter-divisional contest over the weekend, the Crossett Eagles rolled to their second win by trouncing Camden Lincoln of the West by a 20-0 count.

Elsewhere in the conference, the Fairview Cardinals struck blows for the West by tripping cross-town rival Camden High 20-6 to go 2-0 against 4-AA schools. The Magnolia Panthers showed their stuff with another shutout, this one a 25-0 walk over Haynesville, La.

The Arkadelphia Badgers won their first district game in several seasons by overcoming Texarkana Washington 20-0 in a Western Division contest. Smackover, meanwhile, shocked El Dorado Washington 18-0 to go 2-0, and Warren tied Monticello 6-6 in other action.

Motor City Tuning Up for Series

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
America's Motor City still was turning itself inside out with jubilation today after a one-step backward title march turned out to be a champagne walk after all.

"I've waited a long time for this," said Al Kaline after Detroit secured its first American League pennant in 23 years Tuesday night.

And, that just about summed up the feelings of thousands of the Tigers' long-deserted rooters, who touched off a wild, madcap demonstration when Don Wert's two-out bases loaded single in the ninth inning delivered a 2-1 victory over New York.

Thousands of joyful spectators, who had been chanting "Bring on the Cards" from the middle innings on, swarmed onto the field and into the Tiger dugout. It took a regiment of policemen to protect the heroes from their exuberant admirers.

But you couldn't blame them for being a little excited. It's been a long wait.

World War II had just ended and many of the present Tigers were still in diapers—or hadn't been born yet—when Detroit last played host to a World Series.

Actually, the wild outburst of appreciation was a little late. In reality, the Tigers backed into the championship when Boston thwarted second-place Baltimore's last hopes 2-0 in a game that ended about 10 minutes before the Tiger-Yankee match.

But that score wasn't announced at Tiger Stadium, and most in the crowd of 46,512 were unaware Detroit had won the flag until Wert's game-winning blow.

In other AL games, Washington tripped Cleveland 4-2 and Chicago whipped Oakland 2-1 before losing the nightcap of a doubleheader 8-1. California's scheduled afternoon game at Minnesota was rained out.

Gaylor Perry hurled the fourth no-hitter in the major leagues this season as San Francisco blanked St. Louis champions 1-0 in the National League. Los Angeles whipped Atlanta 7-5, the New York Mets edged the Chicago Cubs 3-2, Houston stopped Atlanta 5-1 and Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 4-2 in other NL games.

It was a typical finish for the Tigers, who have made a habit of last-out victories this season, in a game marked with several yards and one touchdown while Noland Smith of Kansas City has run back five for 145 yards and a touchdown.

In all of last season, Denver's Floyd Little scored the only touchdown on a punt return.

Hard to Tell Losers From the Winners

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — It isn't hard to tell the winners from the losers at this mountain gambling resort on the Nevada border. It's all a question of destination.

The winners are staying and will be back for more. The losers are leaving, sadder but wiser.

For the next month, plenty will be said about the winners in the U.S. men's Olympic track and field trials that were just completed here.

Herewith, therefore, is a last look at some of the losers:

— In 1964, a swarthy young Marine of Indian ancestry, provided the United States with its most thrilling victory at the Olympic Games in Tokyo, winning the 10,000 meters.

Today Billy Mills is just another runner who couldn't make the team. Troubled repeatedly by a back injury, Mills struggled through the gruelling 10,000 in the trials here and finished fourth.

— When he was 17 and even skinnier than he is now, Gerry Lindgren beat the Russians at 10,000 meters in a duel meet. Since then he won the collegiate three-mile, six-mile, 5,000-meter, and 10,000-meter crowns a total of six times.

But after setting an American record at 5,000 meters this spring, Lindgren injured an Achilles tendon and was never quite right thereafter. He finished fifth in the 10,000 here—and then failed in a desperate attempt to take third in the 5,000.

— For a couple of years Richmond Flowers was a good second-place hurdler. Suddenly his hard work started to pay off. He began to win and felt sure he would break the world record at 110-meters.

Then his knee gave out and for 10 agonizing weeks he had to stay off the track. By the time the knee had healed Flowers had missed too much practice and, though he made it to the finals, he finished fifth and off the Olympic team.

Local Meyer's Plant Receives Accident Prevention Award

Tips If You Can't Stop

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you can't or won't stop smoking cigarettes, says the U.S. Public Health Service, here are five ways to reduce what it calls the perils:

- Choose cigarettes with less tar and nicotine.
- Don't smoke your cigarette all the way down.
- Take fewer draws on each cigarette.
- Reduce your inhaling.
- Smoke fewer cigarettes each day.

Jerry Winer, right, Vice President and General Manager of the Hope Division of Meyer's Bakeries, receives the St. Paul Accident Prevention Award for Ivan Beckus, Arkansas Safety Counselor for St. Paul Fire & Marine Insurance Company. Looking on are (from the left) James H. Atkins, Vice President of Cobb, Atkins, Boyd & Eggleston, Agents for St. Paul; Henry V. Rath, Secretary-Treasurer of Meyer's Bakeries; Beckus; Leo Harmon, Meyer's Safety Director at Hope; and Winer. The award was made to Meyer's management and employees for successfully instituting a full accident prevention program. Beckus said this was only the third such award to be presented by St. Paul in the state of Arkansas since the Arkansas Workmen's Compensation law became effective in 1941. Meyer's Bakeries, with general offices in Little Rock produces more than two dozen products for nationwide distribution. Its plants are located at Little Rock, Hope, and Blytheville in Arkansas, and Memphis, Tennessee.

Cronin Defends Firing of Umpires

BOSTON (AP) — "How the hell do you judge an umpire?" Joe Cronin said. "They're just good or bad, that's all."

With that, the American League president took his stand that umpires Al Salerno and Bill Valentine were fired not because they tried to organize their fellow arbiters but because they were, in Cronin's word, "inefficient."

"Inefficient umpires who were never first class at any time," is what he said.

Salerno and Valentine disputed Cronin.

"There's no doubt that we were released from our jobs because of our organizing activities," Valentine said.

They said the reason they tried to organize the American League ump's is that in the National League the umpires are organized and draw $3,000 to $7,750 more a year than their AL peers.

Cronin maintained that he had "no knowledge at all" of any organizing activities. He said his umpire-scouting personnel, Cal Hubbard and Charlie Berry, former AL umpires, had "kicked around" the qualifications of Salerno and Valentine for some time before the two were given notices Monday.

"It takes a while to make a big league umpire," Cronin said, explaining his advisors concluded the fired duo didn't have it.

A reporter asked Cronin Tuesday what qualifications Salerno and Valentine lacked. It was at that point the league proxy fired back that they were "just inefficient, that's all."

Cronin said he didn't have "any idea" how much National League umpires make. But he added he wouldn't be surprised that they make a little more than their American League counterparts, because of higher attendance in NL parks.

The late Louis Watson was unique among bridge experts in that he liked to laugh at his own mistakes. Other experts groan over them or ignore them.

One of Louis' pet remarks when he went down was, "The hand collapsed."

South's jump to five clubs was a specialized bid showing support for the last bid suit and a singleton club. The call was somewhat optimistic.

Two small trumps do not constitute much support but South had just learned the new gadget and wanted to use it.

There was nothing bashful about North's jump to six hearts either. He had already opened the bidding and decided to open a diamond instead of the more normal king of clubs. Dummy's 10 lost to East's king and South dropped the queen.

East thought awhile and returned the 10 of clubs. South took his ace, entered dummy with the ace of spades, led a trump and finessed his 10.

Most players would have pounced with the king but West was greedy. He wasn't going to lose that trump trick in any event and he was after something worthwhile. He ducked quietly.

South returned to dummy by overtaking his jack of diamonds with the ace and led a second trump. West produced the king and, in Watson's words, "The hand collapsed."

Back came a low club to East's eight. A third diamond was ruffed by West's last trump and another club put declarer four down.

A Symbolic Wedding
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A rabbi says he will perform a symbolic wedding ceremony Wednesday for a young couple who were killed in an automobile accident.

Robert Kames, 21, of Catskill, and Martha Levine, 21, of the Bronx, had planned to be married in January. They died Sunday in an accident in New Mexico.

Rabbi Howard Joseph said the orthodox wedding ceremony will declare the couple united by the coincidence of their tragedy. "In a symbolic way, they will be united forever in death," he said.

The parents agreed to the wedding ceremony, he said. Immediately after the marriage, the rabbi will officiate in the funeral services for the couple.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG
Heavy Smoking Can Cause Premature Births
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—In what week of pregnancy would a woman notice her abdomen beginning to protrude? How soon after conception do breast changes occur?

A—The increase in the size of the abdomen in pregnancy comes about so gradually it is hard to pinpoint the moment when it becomes unmistakable. This varies greatly with a woman's body build and somewhat with the sharpness of the eyes of the observer. In general, pregnancy begins to show in most women after nine or 10 weeks. Breast changes occur at about the same time but these are more noticeable in a first pregnancy than in subsequent ones.

Q—Can a woman whose monthly periods last only a day or two become pregnant and have a normal child?

A—Yes, unless some other abnormality exists.

Q—What effect would excessive smoking (three packs a day) and drinking (six cans of beer a day) by a mother have on her fetus?

A—The only effect heavy smoking has been shown to have on a pregnancy is to cause miscarriage or premature birth. But this should be sufficient reason to quit smoking or at least limit your smoking to half a pack a day.

Although information on the effect of a mother's drinking is not so specific, authorities agree that it is harmful. If you would hesitate to give a newborn baby a shot of whisky, you should remember that part of all you drink will find its way to the fetus through the umbilical cord.

Q—Is it safe for a pregnant woman to exercise, wear a girdle or sleep on her stomach? Why, in the first two months of pregnancy, do the breasts get so large?

A—All pregnant women who are in good health should get some exercise daily. The amount to be recommended would depend on the stage of pregnancy and other factors and should be determined by your doctor. When your regular girdle begins to feel tight, you should switch to an adjustable girdle. Sleeping on your stomach will have no harmful effect in early pregnancy. Later, it will be awkward and you will naturally find a more comfortable position.

The body changes accompanying pregnancy are controlled by your hormones. They are aimed at nourishing the new baby, both before and after birth. Why the breast changes occur so far ahead of time is anybody's guess.

Prescott Parade in Rain; Apology to Laneburg

Your editor and Pod Rogers were arguing about a circulation matter Monday night—but it was Pod who had the last word.

In mid-morning Tuesday I got a telephone bulletin from Pod that he had to take another load of watermelons to the Hemis Fair at San Antonio for publicity purposes and would someone cover for him in photographing the Nevada County Fair parade at Prescott at 11 o'clock.

Meaning that I was elected, and a smart rain was falling in Hope—and presumably in Prescott, too (correct).

I rolled into Prescott 15 minutes before the parade started. Usually when two men are on the job we photograph the floats before they leave the staging center, but because of the rain I elected the alternate system of making the pictures during the actual parade.

I came up with nine float pictures, and understood there were three other floats which stayed out of the parade because of the rain. Both the informant and the editor were in error. There were 10 in the parade—I missed the Laneburg school float... and of course it was the Laneburg float that won first place in both the over-all and school division.

Our apologies to Laneburg, and we'll see that its float gets photographic justice when the Prescott showpieces make a second appearance in the Third District Livestock Show parade in Hope next Monday, Sept. 23.

Laneburg's prize-winning float, I understand, was an Autumn scene set among miniature trees. How I missed it isn't explained by the rain. There were industrial and other non-competitive exhibits in the parade line; I was checking the organization name supposed to be on every float—and simply never saw "Laneburg." It gives the editor a red face—but red faces around newspaper offices are a dime a dozen.

You'll probably see all the Prescott floats when Hope holds its parade Monday, and judging from past performances they'll walk off with the lion's share of prizes.

Tuesday's show in Prescott was a fine performance, with rain bothering neither the paraders nor the great crowd which filled the business district. Fortunately the rain dropped to a drizzle during the parade—but the minute the show ended there was a downpour.

We have our fingers crossed, weather-wise, for Hope's parade Monday—this being the most unpredictable of seasons.

Boat Capsizes, Man Dies in British Flood

LONDON (AP) — A 58-year-old man was washed away Tuesday when his boat capsized near Arundel, becoming the fourth victim of the floods ravaging southeast England. But the situation was easing due to slackening of the heavy rains after four days.

More than 1,500 troops were still engaged in rescue operations throughout seven counties. Insurance companies say they have already received claims for more than $2.4 million in damages, and the waters have begun to recede in only a few areas.

Police put a round-the-clock guard on damaged shops and offices in Kent County. "Hundreds of shops have had their windows shattered by the force of flood water and are vulnerable to looters," said a police spokesman at Tonbridge.

$599 Million for Dredging

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has announced that Army Engineers have approved $599 million in contracts for dredging the upstream channel of the Arkansas River from Fort Smith into Oklahoma.

Firms received the contracts were T.L. James and Son of Ruston, La., $2.2 million; and Martin E. Eby Construction Co. of Wichita, Kan., $1.6 million; and the American Dredging Co. of Philadelphia, $2 million.

Parade Opens the 1968 Nevada County Fair

Prescott High School Band headed the parade through downtown Prescott at 11 Tuesday morning opening the four-day run of the Nevada County Fair which goes through Friday night. A drizzling rain failed to detract from the beauty of the floats as thousands of spectators jammed the business district.

The Fair Queen will be crowned at the Fair Grounds in ceremonies starting at 7:30 this Wednesday night.

The Prescott Council of Garden Clubs float was adjudged first-place winner in the civic division. (Unfortunately The Star missed the picture of the Laneburg float which captured first place in both the over-all competition and in the school division. It will be given special attention when the Prescott floats reappear in the Third District Livestock Show parade in Hope.)

The Willisville float placed second in both over-all competition and the school division.

Emmet's float was third in both over-all and the school division.

Democratic Meet May Be Stormy

By ED SHEARER

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Democrats, attempting to unite for their Nov. 5 general election battles against a strong Republican slate, convene Thursday in their biennial convention, one that could produce some stormy sessions.

Some of the dissidents within the party have announced plans to attempt to change the selection procedure for naming delegates to the state and national conventions. They also say they want "strong, progressive planks" in the platform.

To avoid any charge that he will railroad through his ideas on everything, the party's nominee, Marion H. Crank, has arranged for public hearings in committee meetings this afternoon.

"We are going to have an open convention," said Jack S. Oakes, Crank's campaign manager. "The young people in the Democratic ranks are going to be pleased with the convention and the way it's conducted."

Oakes added, "I'm not saying the convention will agree with everything but there will be

Prison Term Tagged to Gun Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rejected today an amendment to the firearms control bill to require the registration of all firearms and the licensing of their owners.

Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., calling the proposal an anti-crime measure, offered it as an amendment to a bill barring interstate mail order sales of rifles and shotguns.

But it was defeated 55 to 31. Registration and licensing were strongly urged by President Johnson after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., as part of the firearms control legislation he submitted to Congress.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., made his first appearance in the Senate chamber since his brother was slain last June to vote for the Tydings amendment.

He came in as the debate over the controversial proposal was nearing an end. He took no part in it and sat with his chin in his hand.

But Senate did tack into the bill an amendment that would make a person using a gun in a federal crime of violence liable to a sentence ranging up to life in prison.

This was adopted Tuesday prior to the opening of debate today on the most controversial issue over the control bill: whether to amend it to require the registration of all firearms and the licensing of their owners.

The registration proposal by Maryland Democrat Joseph Tydings was rejected by the House and the Senate Judiciary Committee earlier in the year when those bodies generally limited the measure to barring the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns.

The life sentence would be possible for people convicted of carrying a gun while committing such crimes as rape, arson, murder, kidnapping, burglary, theft, racketeering and extortion in a federal jurisdiction.

Assassination of a president also was specified.

Man Caught Here After Wild Chase

A 33-year-old Lewisville, Ark. man is in Hempstead County jail today following a wild chase last night with City Police who had to arrest him twice. He is listed as Johnny Ralph Mason.

Officers were called to a local service station by an attendant where they arrested Mason for having a gun. Also in his possession was a check protector and some checks.

During questioning at the local station Mason told officers he had stolen the truck at Fort Worth and had committed several burglaries in Texas.

While officers were busy checking with Texas authorities, Mason slipped out the station door, ran to the truck and took off. Officers gave chase and after some wild driving up and down several city streets, apprehended him again.

Chief Alvin Willis said today the FBI had been notified in connection with the truck theft. If they don't come into the case Mason will be turned over to Fort Worth authorities where he is wanted for prosecution.

Officers Milan, Clark and Sinyard made the arrest.

Infiltration Trend Seems Downward

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese infiltration into South Vietnam appears to be on the downward trend but is still estimated at 20,000 men in August, U.S. military sources said today.

Their estimate continued an up-and-down trend that has prevailed for the past four months: 30,000 in May, 20,000 in June and 30,000 in July. All are estimates.

The U.S. Defense Department had predicted earlier that infiltration in August again would total 30,000. But the sources in Saigon said they did not consider the estimated reduction to be a sign of de-escalation in the North Vietnamese war effort.

They suggested three possible reasons for the reduction: The Communist command may have filled its units to the strength it feels it can support, air strikes by American bombers on infiltration routes, and monsoon floods which slowed traffic along the Ho Chi Minh trail through Laos.

The sources also reported that three North Vietnamese divisions, totaling perhaps 25,000 to 30,000 men, are now concentrated along the demilitarized zone frontier between North and South Vietnam, possibly readying for a new thrust against allied outposts below the DMZ.

Continuing the air campaign to blunt that buildup, U.S. B52s bombed supply areas and base camps in the northern half of the DMZ and just inside North Vietnam.

Meanwhile, American infantry from the 25th Division knocked out nearly half of an attacking enemy battalion Tuesday northwest of Saigon, raising to at least 259 the number of enemy troops they have killed in that war hotspot this week.

Elsewhere along the northwest infiltration corridor to Saigon, another force of 25th Division infantrymen reported killing 11 enemy troops seven miles southeast of the provincial capital of Tay Ninh. They had killed 117 in the area Sunday and Monday.

U.S. B52 bombers also concentrated on that jungled area. Of 10 B52 raids Tuesday night and today, five went into the northwest corridor.

Wearing a Bow Tie Is Enough to Make You Suspect to Some Cult

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Do you trust a man who wears a bow tie?

Many people don't. To find out how hidebound and conforming the world really is, you don't have to advocate a wild-eyed political theory, join a new sex cult, or become a hippie.

All you have to do is wear a simple bow tie. This is enough to make you suspect to some nosy characters and, for some inexplicable reason, a source of At least these self-appointed critics think a bow tie man is an oddball with a "little boy complex." At the worst they resent him because they think he is probably leading a double life and there by having twice as much fun as they do. That thought infuriates them.

The truth is, of course, that your typical bow tie man is reasonably normal, rarely robs a bank in public or beats his wife in private, and conscientiously tries to keep from overcooking the steaks during a backyard cookout. He customarily refrains from using brass knuckles in a fight, pays his taxes regularly, and has even been known to grow roses as a hobby.

If you were painting his portrait, you'd have to color him true blue—except for that polka dot bow tie, which makes him stand out from the herd.

Yet at two out of three cocktail parties he goes to, sooner or later some tipsy blonde in a miniskirt three sizes too small for a Barbie doll will waddle up to him and sneer:

"Don't you think it's rather silly for a man your age to go around in a bow tie? Why do you wear it anyway?"

There is only one appropriate response for the bow tie man in such a situation. That is, to circle behind his tormenter in dignified silence and pour his martini down the back of her neck, saving only the olive for himself.

But still the recurrent question haunts him: "Why do you wear it anyway?"

There are several possible answers.

A grown man wears a bow tie because it weighs less than a millstone and scratches less than a beard.

A grown man wears a bow tie because it saves him money, it costs him about half as much as a four-in-hand tie would—and it is also less likely to be ruined by dripping gravy and flying ketchup.

A grown man wears a bow tie, not because it makes him feel like a "little boy," but because it makes him feel like

Horses and dedicated riders didn't mind the rain. Here is the mounted section of the parade which followed the last of the floats.

Surveys Show Nixon Leads Humphrey

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Four national surveys and a California state poll show Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon decidedly leading Democratic Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in the presidential race.

Time and Newsweek magazines, the Gallup Poll and a New York Times survey all show that Nixon would win if the election were held today.

Both Newsweek and the Times say Humphrey would get fewer electoral college votes than third party candidate George C. Wallace, although Newsweek says Humphrey's popular vote would be higher.

Time gives Nixon 34 states with 328 electoral votes, Humphrey 10 states and the District of Columbia with 121 votes and Wallace only four Deep South states with 39 votes.

Although the Gallup Poll showed that Humphrey had gained slightly since August, he still trailed Nixon by 12 percentage points.

A California state poll published in the Los Angeles Times gave Nixon 43 percent of the vote in California and Humphrey 34 percent. Wallace got seven percent.

Humphrey's campaign manager Lawrence O'Brien said Sunday that his candidate's poor showing was due to the late start of his campaign. It was delayed by the lateness of the Democratic National convention, O'Brien said on NBC television's "Meet the Press."

The Times survey of 21 gubernatorial contests shows Republicans leading in six and four too close to call.

The paper's presidential survey shows that Nixon would win 30 states with 346 electoral votes if the election were held today. Humphrey would carry six states with 42 votes and Wallace would get eight states with 77 votes. Six states were too close to call, the Times said.

Newsweek gave Nixon 31 states with 329 electoral votes, Wallace 9 states with 89 electoral votes and Humphrey 7 states with 54 electoral votes.

The latest Gallup Poll, based on interviews conducted between Sept. 3 and Sept. 7 gave Nixon 43 percent, Humphrey 31 and Wallace 19.

The earlier survey, conducted after the Republican convention in August, gave Nixon 45 percent, Humphrey 29 and Wallace 18.

Gallup said that Humphrey's biggest problem appears to be keeping Democrats from defecting. In the latest Gallup poll, 27 percent of the Democrats said they would vote for Nixon or Wallace, but only 10 percent of the Republicans said they would not vote for Nixon.

In addition, Gallup said, only one independent in five supports Nixon.

of the Democratic ticket, Gallup said Wallace continued to hold his lead in the South with 38 percent of the vote, compared with 31 for Nixon and 25 for Humphrey.

Outside the South, the former Alabama governor's greatest strength was in the Midwest, where he gets 15 percent.

The Times survey gave Wallace, Minnesota, West Virginia, Rhode Island, Maine, Hawaii and the District of Columbia to Humphrey.

Wallace got Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Tennessee.

However, the Times said Humphrey's lead was narrow in Maine, West Virginia, Minnesota and Hawaii.

Nixon's lead was similarly shaky in New York, Ohio, South Dakota, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

The six doubtful states—Massachusetts, Delaware, Missouri, Florida, Michigan and Washington—were too close to determine who would win them, the Times said.

The Times survey was conducted by political reporters, reflecting the estimates of political leaders in each state, the newspaper said.

The Times said that if Humphrey carried all the states in which he leads, the six doubtful states, and the six states where Nixon's lead is slim, Humphrey's total electoral vote would still be only 222.

However, if Wallace got 77 electoral votes, Nixon would have only 239. That would be short of the 270 needed for election and would throw the decision to the House of Representatives.

The California poll was based on a sampling of 1,007 voters.

It also revealed that 18 percent of the Nixon backers were Democrats and only 9 percent of the Humphrey backers were Republicans.

Nixon showed strength among Southern Californians, Protestants, Caucasians and Orientals. Humphrey drew most of his support from Catholics, Jews, Mexican-Americans and Negroes.

The Republicans should gain at least three state governorships and possibly as many as seven in the November ballot, according to a survey published today by the New York Times.

Senate Bound to Be Rough on Fortas

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — After months of skirmishing, debate will begin in the Senate next week that will end in either confirmation of a new chief justice or blither defeat for President Johnson and his nominee.

The stage was set Tuesday when the Senate Judiciary Committee voted 11-6 to recommend acceptance of the nomination of Abe Fortas to the floor.

Despite a delay of more than two months, the favorable vote had been expected. But the future, holding the certainty of harsh debate and the probability of a filibuster, is clouded.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield said he plans to bring the nomination up the first of next week. He said the first attempt to limit debate probably will be made after four days.

President Johnson nominated his old friend and long-time adviser to succeed Earl Warren last June 26.

The Republican senators spearheading opposition to the appointment charged the White House was bringing great pressure to bear in behalf of Fortas.

Just this week top Johnson aides refused to testify before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which for the first time personally questioned a nominee for chief justice.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., leader of the opposition, said after the committee approval that his forces were steadily gaining strength. He stopped short, however, of claiming enough votes at this stop to defeat the nomination on a simple majority vote.

"We are prepared and ready to go," Griffin said when asked if opponents were organized to carry on a filibuster.

"There is so much opposition and so many senators want to talk that the debate is bound to go on for some time," said Griffin.

Mansfield said in an interview that it will be difficult to cut off a filibuster. Under the rules, a two-thirds majority of senators voting is required to put a debate-limiting rule into effect.

Mansfield said if the first attempt to limit debate fails, the size of the vote will determine whether he will try a second time to end the discussion.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, although supporting confirmation, has predicted there will be at least 50 votes against closure, or far more than needed to keep a filibuster going.

He indicated in talking with newsmen Tuesday that he would not press his GOP colleagues to vote for closure.

Warren has retired contingent on confirmation of a successor. Johnson named another old friend, Federal Judge Homer Thornberry of Texas, to fill the vacancy that would be created by Fortas's elevation from associate justice to chief justice.

The committee, however, has shelved the Thornberry nomination until the Senate either confirms or rejects Fortas.

The opposition has accused Johnson of cronyism in naming old friends to the court and also contends he has no right in the waning days of his administration to make such important and lasting appointments.

Opponents also have claimed that Fortas violated the concept of separation of powers by advising Johnson while sitting on the court and that he has contributed to an increase in pornography by some of the rulings he has participated in.

Tornado and Rains Rap Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A tornado and severe thunderstorms buffeted portions of Arkansas Tuesday but only minor damage and no personal injuries were reported.

A tunnel scurried down Main Street of Batesville, blew out windows and fell several trees along an 11-block path before returning into the storm-filled skies.

No tornado warning had been issued for the area. The tornado was not sighted again.

High winds knocked down trees and power lines and did other minor damage in the Conway area during the night.

The turbulence was caused by a cold front that moved across the state Tuesday. The front is expected to leave clear skies and mild days in Arkansas through Thursday.

Rainfall reported around the state in the 24-hour period that ended at 7:30 a.m. today ranged up to 1.82 inches at Walnut Ridge with most points reporting precipitation.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 45 degrees at Fayetteville to 55 at Fayetteville and Texarkana.

Highs reported Tuesday afternoon ranged from 64 degrees at Harrison to 81 at El Dorado.

Bill Prohibits Reproduction of Autopsy

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The California legislature has completed passage of legislation sought by Kennedy family friends who feared photos taken during the autopsy of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy might wind up in newspapers and magazines.

The bill becomes law as soon as Gov. Ronald Reagan signs it. It prohibits reproduction of any autopsy photos except for use in court and for medical and scientific research. A judge could make other exceptions by special order.

Without the law, anyone could obtain copies—by paying a nominal fee—of the photographs after they are introduced at the trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, charged with murder in the fatal shooting of Kennedy in Los Angeles June 5.

Man Guilty of El Dorado Kidnaping

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A Circuit Court jury deliberated one hour and 30 minutes Tuesday before convicting a Houston, Tex., man of kidnaping and robbery of a prominent El Dorado businessman last year.

The jury set the sentence for Calvin E. Hale, 39, to 21 years on the kidnaping charge and 10 years on the robbery charge, with the sentences running consecutively.

Formal sentencing was set for Thursday morning by Circuit Court Judge Harry Crumpler.

Hale's attorney, Bill Prewitt of El Dorado, said he would appeal the conviction.

Hale was charged in the abduction and robbery of George C. James, 65, who said two men tied him, took him from his home and forced him to write two checks totaling $14,800 on April 11, 1967.

Detective Dub Brewster of the El Dorado Police Department testified Tuesday that Hale admitted in prison a part of the kidnap and robbery. Brewster testified that Hale made the statement while in Leavenworth federal prison.

In a written statement signed by Hale, Brewster said, the convict said he was with Wade Eaves during the robbery and kidnap of James.

Eaves, 44, of El Dorado was convicted on similar charges last year and sentenced to 21 years in prison.

$5 Million Bonds Sold by the State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Treasurer Mrs. Nancy Hall said Tuesday she had to sell $5 million of interest-bearing bonds ahead of schedule to keep up with state spending.

Mrs. Hall told the state Board of Finance, which authorized the sale, that the current rate of spending exceeded revenue.

Monday, she said, the state's expenditures totalled $3,350,695 and revenues came to $1,312,768. She said she expected this to be the spending pattern for the coming quarter.

In addition to selling the $4 million in 5 1/2 percent U.S. Treasury notes, she said she also had to clear out $5,591,600 in noninterest-bearing certificates ahead of schedule.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The severe hold-down on defense spending could delay the return of some U.S. troops to Europe for maneuvers until next summer or later, Pentagon sources say.

The timing of such a move, which was agreed to when the United States started withdrawal of about 33,000 troops last spring, is still under debate at the top levels of government.

G&F Abandons Lake Near El Dorado

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Game and Fish Commission voted Tuesday to abandon plans for the construction of Sue Gordon Lake in Union County.

The project had been south by the Union County Wildlife Federation for a fishing lake in the area.

An engineers report indicated the project would cost $500,000 and the commissioners felt this was too expensive.

The commission agreed to provide all aid possible for the construction of the Felsenthal Dam on the Ouachita River near the Louisiana line in Union County.

If the project is approved, it would raise the proposed dam on the Ouachita by four feet, flooding a wide area of marginal land that would be of multiple purpose for hunters and fishermen.

Concerning the Badd Kidd Kidd Lake project in Washington County, the commission authorized Director Hugh Hacker to name three appraisers to put a price on the land involved. If the price is within the range, the land will be purchased or condemned.

The commission also voted to contribute $5,000 annually to Ducks Unlimited, an organization designed to improve breeding conditions for ducks.

Little Brown Jug Race Up for Grabs

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — The preliminaries continue as Thursday's 23rd renewal of the Little Brown Jug draws near and up for grabs today was the Old Caken Bucket.

Snow Speed, the Castleton Farm star was the favorite in the seven-horse field for the $19,520 Bucket, which returned to the Grand Circuit program here after an absence of 10 years.

Snow Speed has earned $88,444 for the current campaign and has been chasing world champion Nevele Pride over the Grand Circuit all summer.

In 18 starts, Snow Speed has won twice, finished second 10 times—six to the great Nevele Pride—and third twice.

Vikings and Cowboys May Have Power

NEW YORK (AP)—The Dallas Cowboys and Minnesota Vikings shape up as the offensive powerhouses of the National Football League after the first week of play.

Dallas, with Don Meredith at the controls for only a bit more than half of the game, rolled up total yardage of 542 yards on the Detroit Lions who pride themselves on a tight defense.

Minnesota scored 47 points against Atlanta, a total they didn't reach last year until half way through their fourth regular season game.

Cleveland showed the best opening day defense, holding the New Orleans Saints to 208 yards but once again Minnesota was in second place, yielding only 234 yards and but seven points to the Atlanta Falcons.

The Cowboys gave up the least yardage on the ground, 68 in their opener, and St. Louis shut down on the Los Angeles Rams' air game, permitting only 84 yards and nine completions in 22 attempts.

1,500 Victory for Driver

SALEM, N.H. (AP) — It was the 1,500th victory of his career Tuesday night for driver Alfred "Bucky" Day, of Danville, N.H., when he drove the winner of the feature race, Miss Pin Moraka, at Rockingham Park. The winner paid $25.80.

Rookie Turned the Trick on First Try

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — On only his first try, Oakland rookie George Atkinson did what it took the entire American Football League 332 tries to do last year.

What Atkinson did was run back a punt 86 yards for a touchdown and generally help wreck the Buffalo Bills and get their coach, Joe Collier, fired.

Including the touchdown return, the defensive back from Morris Brown ran back five punts for a league record 205 yards last Sunday and today was named The Associated Press' AFL defensive player of the week.

And he did all of this in his first regular season game.

It was on his first runback that Atkinson equalled the league's entire 1967 output. In 332 returns last year, Floyd Little of Denver scored the only touchdown, doing it on a 72-yard romp.

The rookie's 86-yard scoring run started the defending champion Raiders on the way to a 48-6 triumph over the Bills. His second return, of 52 yards, gave the Raiders the ball at the Buffalo 9, setting up another TD.

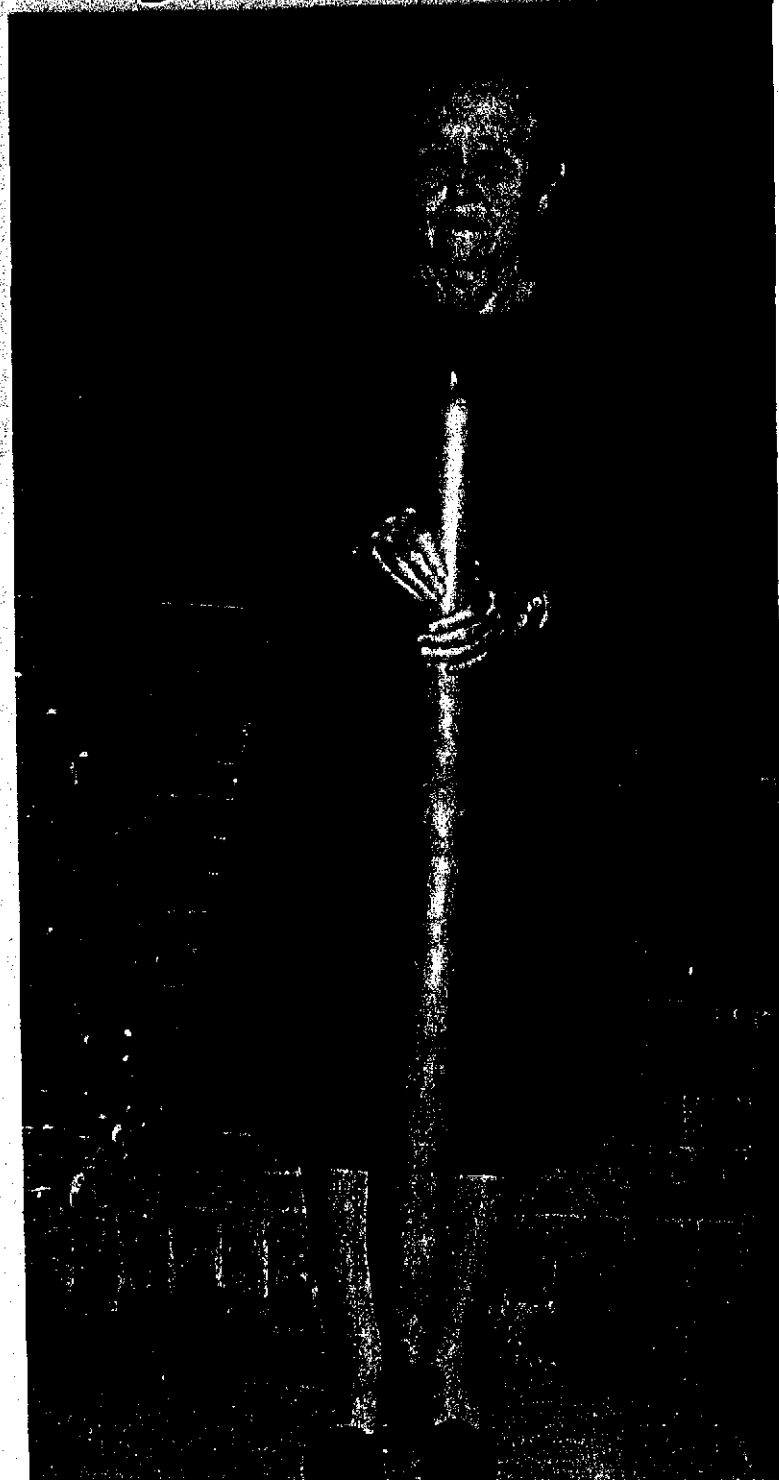

It might take a little longer to determine, but Atkinson's performance certainly gave at least some credence to a statement by Al Davis that the youngster "could be the best player we ever signed."

Davis, the man who runs the Raiders, just might be going a little overboard, but there's no doubt that the seventh-round draft choice is one of the most aggressive Raiders.

Curiously enough, on the same day Atkinson equalled the 1967 total of one touchdown, Kansas City's Noland Smith also returned a punt for a touchdown. His 80-yard jaunt almost propelled the Chiefs past New York and earned him recognition.

Also considered for the honor were Houston's Ken Houston, who raced 66 yards with an in-

Dr. Sheppard Named in Two Big Lawsuits

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard and the Youngstown Osteopathic Hospital have been named in two wrongful death suits totaling over $1 million. The suits were filed within 10 days of each other.

Martin L. Duffy filed suit in Mahoning County Common Pleas Court Tuesday for $685,000, claiming negligence in the death of his wife, Mary, last May 16. Duffy is fire chief in nearby Liberty Township.

Duffy contends Sheppard failed to perform proper post-operative care for his wife, who died 16 hours after the operation. He said the hospital was negligent in selecting Sheppard for its staff since he had not practiced in 10 years.

On Sept. 7, Mrs. Marcia Lopez filed a $530,000 suit against Sheppard and the hospital. She said her husband, Samuel, died following a spinal operation performed by Sheppard on Aug. 7.

Sheppard, who spent nearly 10 years in the Ohio Penitentiary, joined the hospital staff this summer. He was convicted in 1954 of the bludgeon death of his first wife, Marilyn, in their suburban Cleveland home.

A federal court ruled that Sheppard did not get a fair trial. He was acquitted in a second trial.

Moscow Denies Space Probe Near Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet government spokesman today denied a British report that a Soviet space probe has passed near the moon and is believed on its way back to the earth.

The spokesman said the report from Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank Observatory, was "a canard—the entire report does not correspond to reality."

The spokesman said he had no information on the flight of the Zond 5 unmanned spacecraft, which a Soviet announcement Sunday said had been launched into space from a parking orbit around the earth. The spacecraft's mission was not specified then, and there has been no further announcement about it.

Lovell, one of Britain's leading space scientists, said earlier that Jodrell Bank's big radio telescope picked up signals from Zond 5 in 40-minute bursts throughout the night and the rocket passed within about 1,000 miles of the moon at 5:55 a.m., or 12:55 a.m. EDT.

Lovell said the spacecraft did not go around the moon, but passed on one side of it, and then the signal strength increased many times as it turned toward earth. He predicted that the Russians would try to recover it on Friday, which would be another space first for the Russians and an important step toward landing a man on the moon.

"Once they have achieved this," said the Briton, "we can anticipate that they will put a man in one, send it near the moon, then bring it back without landing on the moon."

This may be tried within months, Lovell said, although the Russians may want to try more exercises on the critical maneuver of hitting just the right angle needed for re-entry of a moon craft.

Lovell said he believed Zond 5 was itself large enough to carry a man to the moon and back.

The first Zond spacecraft took pictures of the back side of the moon three years ago, and other Zond craft since have failed in attempts to reach Venus and Mars.

Three U.S. astronauts are scheduled to take an Apollo spacecraft into prolonged earth orbit Oct. 11 to qualify it for later moon missions. If their planned 11-day mission is successful, it will clear the way for a second manned mission scheduled in mid-December which may carry an Apollo crew around the moon.

One Way to Rescue Horse

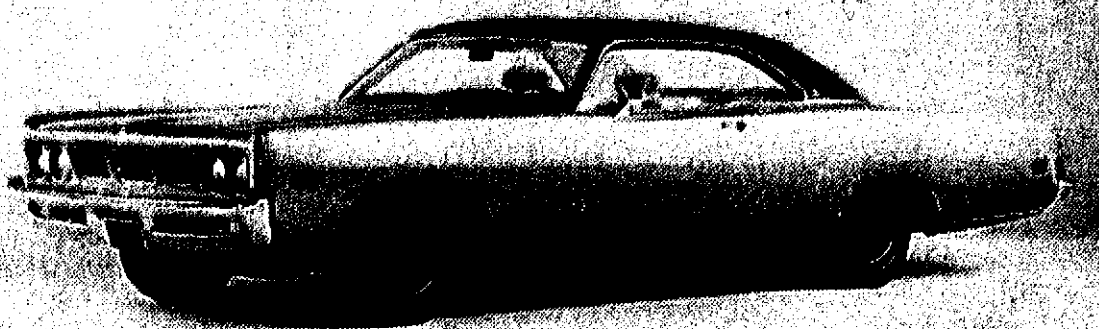

LYNNFIELD, Mass. (AP) — There's more than one way to rescue a horse that has fallen into a 12-foot-deep dry well.

Caesar, a 5-year-old palomino, broke through the plank cover of a well on the farm of Mrs. Carla Koller Monday.

Mrs. Koller picked up a telephone and ordered 20 tons of gravel.

While Caesar munched oats fed to him by his owner, 17-year-old Karl Kesting, other neighborhood youngsters filled buckets with gravel and their parents carried them to the well.

Two men distributed the gravel strategically in the well and gradually its level rose. Finally, after nearly five hours, the gravel was high enough and Karl with a bucket of oats lured the palomino out unscratched.

OVEREATERS ANONYMOUS OFFERS HELP FOR HEFTY

Dear Helen: You advised an overweight person to join OVEREATERS ANONYMOUS. I couldn't agree with you more! But you didn't give an address. Please do! Many people want to know — VITALLY INTERESTED

Dear V. I.: Headquarters for OVEREATERS ANONYMOUS is Post Office Box 3372, Beverly Hills, California, 90212. Anyone wishing information on where to find local clubs, or how to form clubs, may send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to this address and a packet of material will be forwarded immediately.

Over 150 groups have already formed in the United States. The clubs are unique in that they have no set dues (the "hat" is passed for expenses), no lecture fees, no expensive regimen. They are self-help organizations, and they really help, according to my mail. Here's a letter from a California member:

Dear Helen: A little less than three years ago I was overeating compulsively, gaining weight rapidly, but I wouldn't listen to my doctor, my family or anyone else.

I weighed 246 pounds on November 14, 1965. I had a loving, but very worried husband, and a beautiful little girl. I hated myself, but I was helpless. I'd tried all manner of diets. They didn't help.

Then I found OVEREATERS ANONYMOUS, through a local newspaper article. It saved my life, and more than that it gave me a way to live.

During the first year in OA, Helen, I lost 111 pounds. I now wear a size 12. I have never returned to overeating.

In OA I got help and understanding from other people who shared my problem and experiences. I learned that I wasn't a fat, weak, will-powerless genetic freak — I was a compulsive overeater and I could control my problem with the right kind of philosophy. Most important, I found I was not alone. — BORN AGAIN

Remember now, you overweight readers, the Box number is 3372, Beverly Hills, California, 90212. If even two people in your area are interested, you can start a club, so write today! — H.

P. S. Overeaters Anonymous welcome men and teenagers, as well as women.

Dear Helen: My husband and I have a leach problem. Female. She is unmarried and comes over at least five times a week, sometimes bringing another female friend. We used to give her a warm welcome but we'd certainly like to chill the relationship now. It's gotten so that if I don't have cake to go with the coffee she asks for, heaven help me. Should I offer her the same cake twice in a row, I hear about it. We don't eat desserts, so I must buy especially for her.

There are nights when she arrives so late she gets us out of bed. Then she says, "I didn't think anyone went to bed so early!" (It was 10:30.)

We are planning an European vacation. She is making plans to join us. We don't want her, and can't afford her company. She always says she'll settle her share of the bill later, but later doesn't come. She earns more than our combined income.

There's a slight relationship, so we don't want to make an enemy of her. How do we ease out of this gradually? — MOURNING LOST PRIVACY

Dear M. S. P.: I never heard of getting rid of a leach gradually.

Johnson Says He Is for Humphrey

By JACK BELL

AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's endorsement should dispell "gossip" about whether he wants Hubert H. Humphrey to win the presidency, says a top Humphrey adviser.

"It puts to rest the gossip—and it never was anything more than that," said Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., Tuesday after Johnson ended a public silence on his vice president's campaign for the White House.

In a message to the Texas Democratic convention, Johnson said that he will support Humphrey and "work as hard for him as he has worked for America."

Harris and other top Democrats predictably welcomed Johnson's message and Harris added that "it will be especially helpful to us in our need to carry Texas."

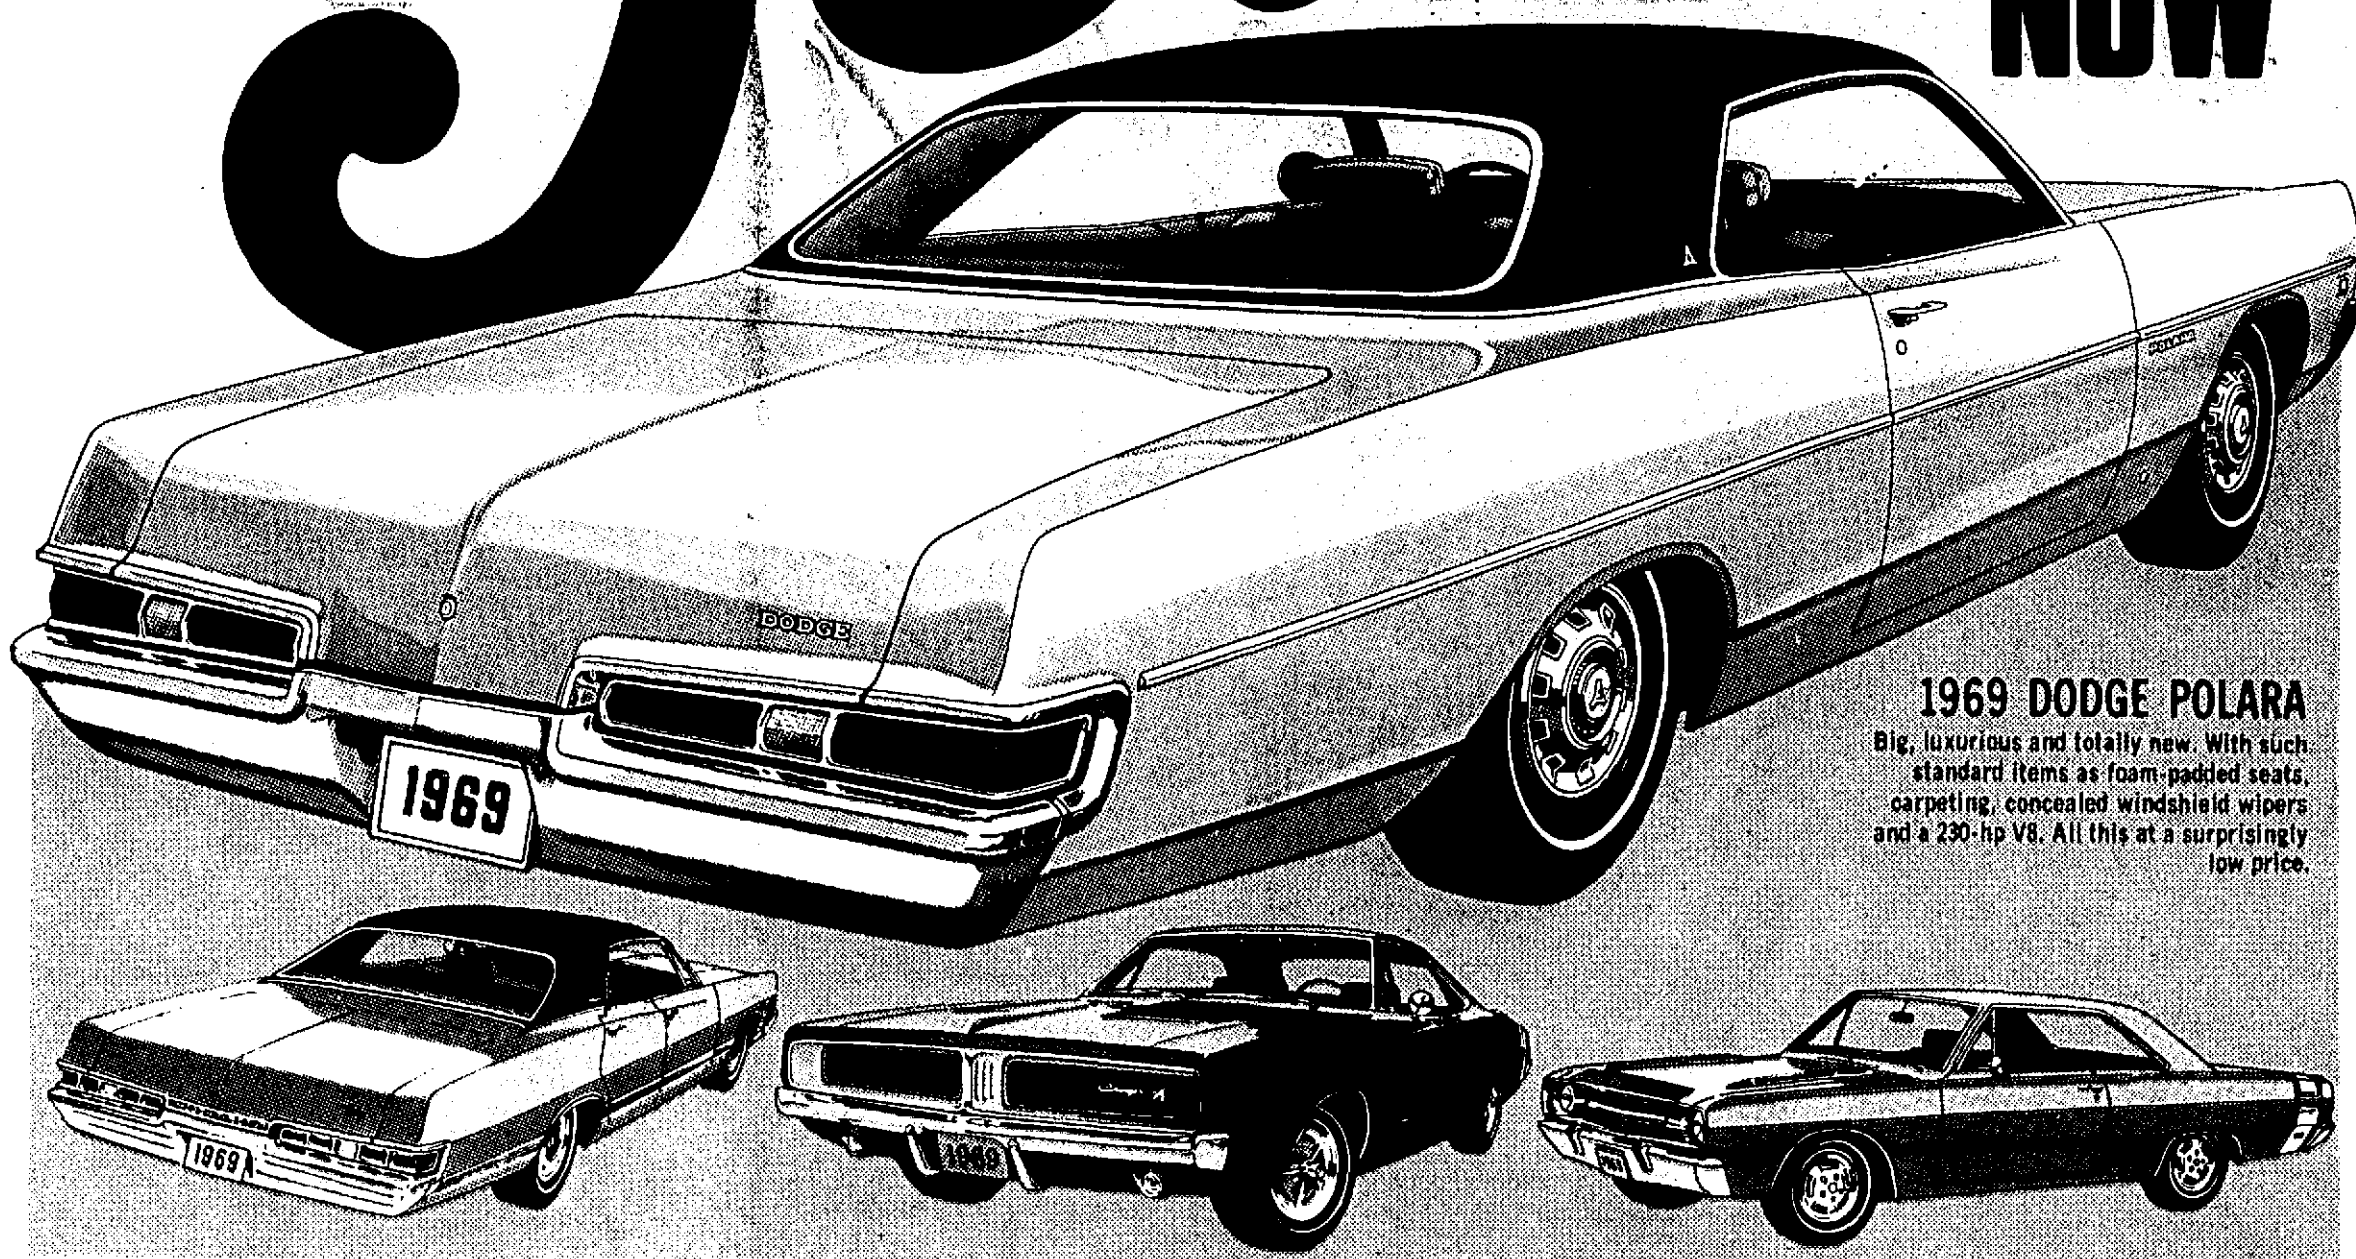

STAND ON IT AND SHE'LL MOVE. The 1969 Dodge Dart "Swinger 340" features a peppy 340 c.i. V-8 engine that will move you into a new world of sportiness. Take this mover to the flicks or move out into the back country. The bumble-bee stripes assure you that the Swinger is a real Seat Pack car—a car on the move.

Republicans also were predictable in their reaction. Several said Johnson's praise will only tie Humphrey closer to the Johnson record, something the GOP sees as a plus for its side. Harris said that insofar as the statement ties Humphrey to the Johnson record, "there was never any way he could escape that record, nor did he want to."

"This doesn't diminish the vice president's ability to talk about the future and about building on the Johnson administration programs. He can talk about the future and what he would do as president."
